Movie ideas →

Infinity Box - Group of kids stumble upon a box labeled 'infinity'. People want the kid who finds the box to open it, but he won't. At the end he is by himself and finally can't resist. Show video effect of a box opening upon a box, opening upon a box, etc. Movie shows how everyone wants to know what infinity is, but realistically it can't be comprehended.

Disobedient - Two kids always have a good time and drink and smoke weed, but one never does any of that. Every time the two get mixed up, the third secretly works on a weapon of power. The kids(two) are suspicious of something but due to being mixed up (weeded) they don't discover the plot until it is too late (i.e. right as third kid is putting in the last piece). With the new weapon he then goes on to conquer the world and it is too late for the kids to do anything. Symbolizes that weed can ~~ever~~ render someone blind to the reality of life, so much that sometimes it becomes too late to catch back up with working reality. Faeth amplifies ideas by including the story as the thoughts of a weeded man. Shows how man has already been conquered by the ~~one~~ world due to the weed.

Weed Chaos-Man finds a way to transform his <sup>weed</sup> thoughts into reality and gets rich doing so. Goes on to become one of the greatest leaders of our world. Later it became known that the only reason he became famous was because of his creative ideas coming to him through weed. This then creates popular support for weed and everybody begins to smoke it. People smoke weed, start smoking all the time thus leading to chaos. Movie ends on two kids smoking weed having just thought about the movie and wondering whether they might bring chaos to the world.

* If Mike and I make this movie we ironically have the potential to bring chaos as well.

Strange New World - World is portrayed that is different from our own. Everything is structured around building machinery. In politics, history, society etc. are portrayed, the viewer can detect a constant buzz in the background (similar to the buzz of a machine). Plot in movie is centered around characters trying to discover the buzz noise in the machine world. End of movie the buzz shot transitions to the view of a fly buzzing around two weeded kids who were the ones creating the world the entire time.

- show how great the imagination is as opposed to movies
- show the irony of movies, that they are constructed to be real when really they are nothing but ~~feel~~ thoughts of other people's mind (an anti-Movie Movie)

Weed Capital (idea is cool by itself) - Movie starts with a business making money off the sale of weed stems, yet as a byproduct they have weed to dispose of. Instead of just leaving it land since sale of it is illegal they pay workers to smoke it. Normal people are sucked into the deal because they think it is a cool job. But the more they smoke the less in touch with reality they become. By the end they or basically mindless zombies never in touch with reality, ending because of smoking every day.
People think that this is purely against weed but in the end the viewer discovers that the main characters behind the business are really anti-weed activists trying to prove the horrors of weed (weber as their experiment subject).

Notes -

Poker game  $\rightarrow$  4 players

↳ personalities:

crime has occurred in outside stall, police officers are investigating movie switch between two realities.  $\rightarrow$  officers and poker table / furthermore, poker games goes to flashback mode (in which we're investigating)

differences between men and women

↳ women strive for physical perfection

men strive for mental perfection

↳ as society progresses everyone strives for both life has evolved more so as two sex reproduction

as opposed to asexual reproduction

↳ male progresses society while woman sustains
the life itself

imagine if my parents knew everything about you

↳ what would they think?

should write my own autobiography as a journal of my past → then add it to the beginning of my present journal

my current psychology

↳ divorced parents → lead two separate ways of life that were incompatible → rebellion → met a girl → gradually came to drown family and replace it with another → broke up with girl
but kept family → fell in love with girls sister → disillusioned by school and what to do in life → following a set path until now

↳ AND HERE I STAND...

college students change major so much because until then they have never been given a chance to really decide their own learning ↳ what if schools were structured so that children could choose their learning earlier or and become more specialized quicker?

two types of jobs → those that sustain life and those that progress life ↳ then there are two types of people → those that do a job and those that further it which person shall I be?

can we change who we are?
↳ maybe if we visualize an image of who we want to be and just talk to them
↳ eventually become them

ID/EGO → every day one side of you wants to relax and take a break, have fun, see entertainment → the other side needs to get something done, work, exercise, be productive
↳ 1 side sustains life
↳ 1 side progresses life

the dinosaur failed → they could not progress fast enough to prevent the meteor or whatever it was that destroyed them ↳ can we beat the clock?

we must progress fast enough to both prevent outside variables and prevent ourselves from destroying each other

God could be watching his beautiful creation

↳ either a simple experiment or a crucial one?

what do animals think when they look at us?

↳ to know you are of lower dominance (the prey)
are animals of higher dominance more intelligent?

must be hard for say a lion → used to be the king of the land → completely oblivious to human existence → then to be exposed to us
your must be hell

if dominance correlates with intelligence

↳ as men become less dominant women will become more intelligent alien → man view is negative, people are scared → yet a species so highly evolved is likely to be free from outward violence → even if we were to stumble across other cultures we would try to befriend it and we are nowhere close to exploring the galaxy → therefore aliens are likely to be peaceful (last lesson, contact)

strange to be an astronomer → your entire job would be unknown → a philosophy based on science ↳ study endless amounts of stars and galaxies

everything that exists is part of a greater being ↳ are we no different?

all we are is a fancy invention of this so-called life

we have also been furthering our ability to kill more and more people → therefore people have always feared the end of the world

↳ yet we have so far always overruled this doomsday through expansion of peace and population growth ↳ some with nuclear?

strange jobs → astronomer, historian, philosopher

what does a professional philosopher do on a normal day? → is philosophy progressing in theory just as other sciences? → have a magazine on current philosophy?

think about what I have missed in school ↳ trip to Southeast Asia

what do we want to live for?

↳ be true to those we love

↳ make a difference in our society

enjoy life or try to explain it → balance of both ↳ yin yang?

is violenceurable or is it part of who we are?

↳ could make an interesting movie...

what makes a movie great is the ability to watch it twice

↳ once for surface beauty, twice for deep beauty

teenagers sleep in because they need more energy

↳ people who sleep longer need more energy

↳ can't sleep if you have too much energy

what is energy? what does sleep replenish scientifically?

at what point over life evolve to sleep?

would be interesting to know if all movie scripts submitted get read or submitted?

look into MENSA and expanding IQ activities I need to improve on:

magazines, good food and drink, downtown trips,
interesting movies (ie. Michigan's Theatre), poker, chess, target trips, wine and smokers, never weed things

seems like no matter what foods you eat

↳ fat tastes good

must be major differences in herbivores and carnivores to compensate for the lack of nutrients

has a movie like Phenomenon ever happened?

depressed people abuse weed because it allows them an escape whereas well to do people utilize the ideas gained

why don't people like weed?

↳ maybe they can't see the ideas

must utilize this potential to prove them wrong...

we lose our imagination throughout life

↳ must reclaim it

Lesbian married people collide in different ways. They just mold into one completely new and unique object. It's as you could say, "a collision of worlds".

Men and women have different married worlds? Or is it something else (secret letters)??

Wonder if Dr. Suess actually saw the worlds he created?

Popular website would be "badthings.com" where the user could have access to interactive drugs, sex, and violence

Movie idea: computers have been adhered to human brains to create an entirely new way of life

My worst nightmare:

young evil kid → was ultimate evil (maybe devil)

went to hollywood → Jon Stewart was there

↳ everything was good → met a pretty young girl who was mildly attractive, very sweet whom fell in love with me

↳ gave me a ring

then the Daily show went bad and people started to get sick → but the girl still loved me

then she became rich and someone stole her away

↳ nice looking black man in a trench coat

↳ very suave and slick

I tried to stop him but he played mind games on me

↳ he set a trap of stairs and fire and the moment I hesitated to follow him through the fire
he was gone

then the child came and hell broke loose

↳ he would constantly torment me leading me through ultra violent scenarios where I would constantly die

↳ sometimes he would alter my perceptions and mess
with my world and mind

↳ a scene with a crazy cat, he gave me a second to control my own mind to let me explain
a riddle of how to stop the crazy cat

↳ if I would have grabbed the cat back

before it was crazy and throw it at the wall
then it wouldn't be here presently some scenarios I managed to get away but he would always find me, I would try to physically attack

but all to no avail

game of half life where everybody fighting was ignoring me as if I had already been killed

↳ there people were the root of evil

then a guy jumped out of a helicopter (just like half life) except he had a bright suit on that said
'2000' on it (though it could have been 200?)

everybody was in one room where the evil kid began to kill everybody

↳ even killed a goofy kid whom I had known throughout the dream (he was bad, but not quite) as all this was happening the girl I loved was lying sick in the middle of the floor

after the kid killed the goofy kid he turned to me and said, "Now it is just you and me" (find little?) that was when I realized this was a dream and I altered my mind to wake up → I realized that the End of Days was a movie, not real did I win?

6PM Thursday

A spark parking lit in the middle of a thunderstorm. A trail may stumble across the sidewalk. Lighting the flares across the sky as the man looks toward the shop across by the St.

Restaurant interior. A family is enjoying their meal. A father, mother, son, daughter and a son-in-law are seated. A waiter person serves another dish.

Father: "So, then we tell me you're in the knife business?"

Son-in-Law: "Yes, we have about a dozen retail... and... two manufacturing plants."

Father: "Ahh, I see, so what do you think of the knives we're using?"

Son-in-Law: "Well... let's just say a dull blade is still a good blade."

Father: (Laughs) Well... I suppose if you don't mind a dull blade...

The door bursts open. A soldier and a woman step into the restaurant. A waiter person approaches him.

Waiter person: Can I help you, sir?

Man: I... I have no money. I... I'm not sure....

Waiter person: I'm sorry! If there's anything I can do...

Man: I... I have no money...

in an awkward silence enters the room

The ~~wife~~ <sup>wife</sup> nudges the husband. The husband looks back as if "How on I supposed to know what to say?" After the husband begins to say something, the wife nudges him again.
Husband: Honey... I... Honey... I... Honey... I... Honey... I...

Husband: Um... excuse me... sir, would you care to join us for dinner?

The man tries to assure what to say.

Husband: Well... you're free to join us if you'd like.

Voice: Honey?... again when...

Husband: Well, just sit down and have a rest. (pulls him over to a chair)

Stranger: ... I think I came from the other direction.
(everyone laughs)

Harland: Yes, well, better safe than sorry.

The strong eats his food. His force becomes something. He becomes hot ~~pissed~~ <sup>passive</sup> and relaxed.

Pan over the table, see ~~under~~ empty dishes. Tim has cleared.

Harland: Well, suppose we should be having home now.

Son gets up, and wants by the Son! Daughter and son-in-law ~~start~~ get up and talking to each other. Harland helps up ~~sons~~ get up.

The strong get up. Everybody gets ready. Once everyone is ready a silence persists.

Harland: Well...

Wife: Do you have a place to stay?

Strong: No... but don't worry all will be okay...

Harland: Yes, well...

Wife: Why not you spend the night with us? We have an extra bedroom...

Harland: Well...

Strong: I don't...

Wife: Alright then, just one night...

Strong is in the bed, sleeping in the guest bedroom... he doesn't eat the city.

The flesh of the gull was as it was & it opened was a relief to ~~the~~ ~~the~~ ~~the~~; I needed to wash more Quarts Runder for the wet fanning outside. I felt the wave of hot air strike my face; then the rays of sun a beat of sweat formed on my right temple. like a reflexive knee I took you into action; my tool ~~left~~ ~~set~~ is already laid out in front of me. The cups of a spatuula, the catch of a tray, and the size of sponges, are all at task. Twelve more people satisfied. Whatever it took to make them stop bitching. You would be amazed at how angry people get when their stomachs are empty. Sure they could blame the service or act thus frustrated on ~~my~~ ~~managere~~ off, one of my many managers. But I knew the real reason; they were hungry & they wanted us to do something about. That was the funny thing about customers service. They say it is the customers who pays are salaries, but the root goes both ways you know. That construction worker fixes my roads; that ~~a~~ woman mother's the children of my banker; I go to that doctor when I am sick. No matter now, ~~bees~~ the food is done so no one is complaining.

just my luck I go to the movie theater and get fucking fat people sitting behind me. I mean you can't blame them, big legs, or ones man even, but it's every fucking excusey part in the movie they keep picking my seat. It's like the fucking school bus when the kid behind you would keep picking the seat. Finally old dad enough, turned around harder than a ten a lot than to go buy some more popcorn.

What scares me more than guns is the fucking people that are allowed to carry them. I actually hold up the requirement for carrying a gun, and you need to be a) over eighteen, b) no criminal record, and c) have taken some damn training course about gun safety and all that. So I give me a should there be some kind of IQ test with these things. I mean we're talking about guns here; fucking instrument of God made to assist our enemies and there's no clause stating a retard can't own a gun. I mean he waits until his old enough, of course he has no criminal records, he probably doesn't even know how to commit a crime, and pays for the stupid gun training sessions, and boom, here goes a fucking gun. Makes you think twice about taking that handicapped space there for sure.

What I really love is the whole idea of dying and going to heaven and getting to virgin. I mean think about it, every guy gets to women to do it with at he pleases. You know what this means. I mean what's with the ratios. Are all the women getting into heaven while most guys go to hell?

Not if I was a woman old be doing everything possible to go to hell.

A moment silence. All of a sudden a guy hits Donnie in the head.

Phil: Hey Donnie, need help? That Morle.

Donnie: What do...? Donnie stood up and looks over in the guy's direction, a store looking boy is kneeling behind a booth. Donnie and group get up to another paper boy.

Waitress (McTull): Here you are, one expensive sandwich and a glass of water. Is that all or do you want an expensive dessert?

David: No, that's all. Waitress wait for response. She has a very face and a turn back and heads for the kitchen.

David begins reading his newspaper while lets out his sentence.

Narrator: Six experiments <sup>with</sup> ~~conspiring~~ what appear to be a failed attempt at framing the Mayor. At approximately 2 AM on Tuesday

I kids had a bag of cocaine into a hot balloon they had been at the airport. They were holding an old lady and her dog. The old lady was in shock covered with cocaine. Then suddenly, <sup>pulling</sup> ~~pulling~~ <sup>pulling</sup> the man and his daughter got into a ~~balloon~~ <sup>balloon</sup> an inflatable doll sitting in a chair there. Place or were cleaning up cocaine, another looks affectively at inflatible doll.

McTull placing check on toll: "Not too expensive old boy."

Woman walking out of restaurant goes to talk to find her son cocaine into her mouth.

They say a letter is the last thing to write when you really want to say something. I wrote this to you now when I feel as I think this very moment has been the lowest in my entire life. My heart feels as though it has been slowly dying. The word just numbs the pain. I write this to you now because I can't take it anymore, I've waited for you three years and I don't think I can wait anymore. As raw as you think I may sound, I just can't seem to find anyone else like you.

I'm living in a nightmare, seeing you unhappy every day as I stand there with my hands tied behind my back.

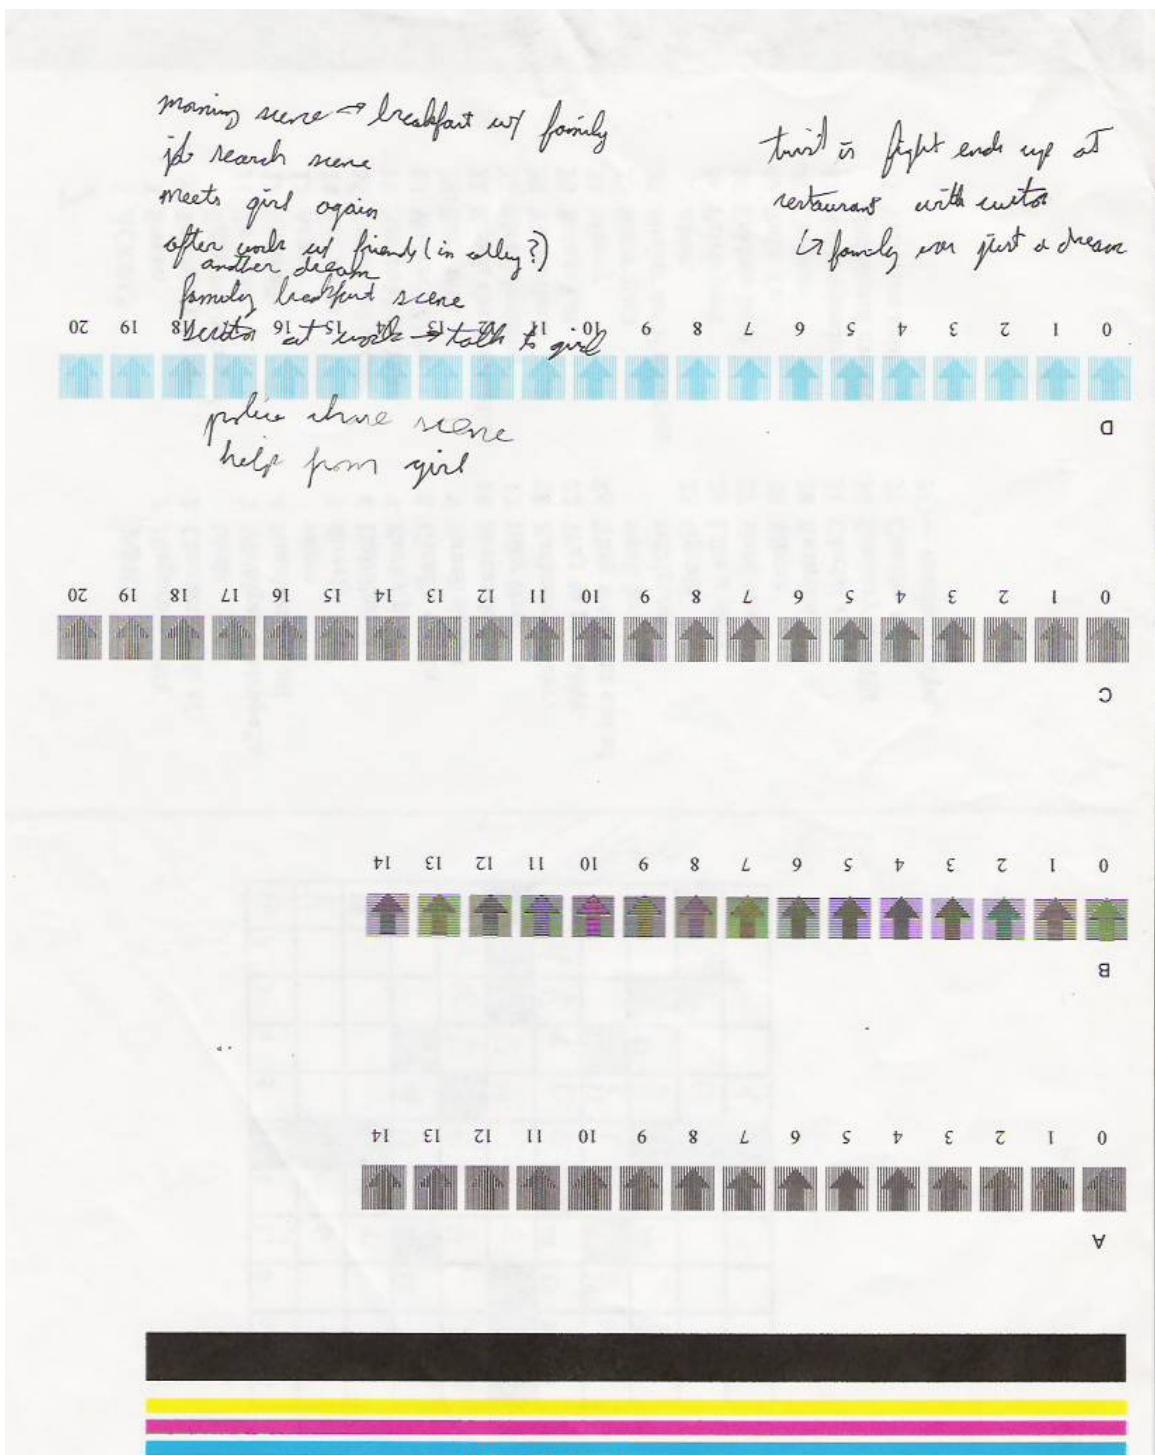

I love you and Kate so much. This letters love triangle will be the curse to us all.

I don't want to leave everything I've loved for so long, but maybe that's the way it was meant to be.

Why Bob? I despise him for taking advantage of your sweet innocence. Why was I made so powerless to stop it? Is that what you really want?

Love is so twisted, maybe it is because we twist it ourselves.

I am starting anew,
ask yourself this, does he love you enough to wait three years without a single kiss?

The man walks tentatively over to the table and takes a seat.
The husband sits as well.

Husband: So, stranger... you have a name by chance?

Man: I'm... (looks up) not sure...

Man: (nervously laughs) Alright... so what do you know?
Wife: Well, I'm sure you wouldn't mind some sweet and sour chicken, my mother used to make it in a frame)

Man: um, no, we're... sorry about here, you know this guy?

Husband: Sir, you must have a family looking for a place around here?

Son: (smiling) I do, that is...
Son: You too, we're looking every day... (corner of mouth)

The daughter steps out of the room, giving Louis a reverent look.

Daughter: Well, I certainly hope you're not staying put there, (another awkward silence)

Son: Yes, son and I are still looking...

Son: (smiling) Daughter speaks.

Husband: Yes well, I do... I have one place to go... (another silence)

Wife: Well, we can discuss that after you get something to eat...

All eyes turn to strange alert to eat. The strange concern of everyone starts to be seen

Some food shuffles nervously off his fork to his mouth.

Keep the boy. Again awkward silence.

Boy: You know better than war a murder down the street?

Wife: Mrs. Bradley, is there a place not harboring any guest now?

Boy: Sorry, now I'm sure there's no need for such talk.

Husband: Though it was interesting, ~~yes~~, murdered ~~and not one person~~ down the road from here. They say the house or the one who didn't

Man: Well,

Son: Hope that's not in the neighborhood we're looking into.

Present The Plan

I sit and write
through this endless night
with my goals in sight
to try our best.
A plan my man, it's all in the plan.

To goals and dreams,
it's all what it seems,
Clocks and dreams,
bolts and beams.

A plan I need,
some counters lead,
An idea feed,
From its invisible seed.

If things don't go right, blame it on God. I can see it, I see it too.

I can never say, A bank I'll hit,
What is the way, With my endless wit,
It seems so gray, To which they'll sit,
On this endless day. What the fuck? And let me get,
Think now and consume yourself. Money. Lots of money.

Night before Christmas

Gary: Hi, we'd like to speak with Wild Bill
Little man: Mr. Wild Bill.

Gary (looks at John): Okay, we'd like one of your best used cars.
Little man: And what price range were you looking at?

(cut to shot of a cheap used car driving)
Gary: I tell you, shall be perfect
(John nods)

Gary: A little paint some axle grease here and there, shall be looking good in no time.

Jim at work

Jim: What do you mean the font is too small
